Protest!

In the light of the latest killing of stray animals in Jerusalem by the Municipality:-

- We condemn in the strongest terms the use of strychnine for the killing of stray animals.
- Strychnine is a barbaric and cruel poison, causing agonising pain and suffering. Its use is forbidden in civilized countries.
- There are acceptable humanitarian alternatives (i.e. Tardemon 100).
- We demand that the use of strychnine for killing animals be outlawed immediately.
- We call on animal lovers and people of conscience to join us in this demand by writing letters of protest to their Mayors.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals in Israel (Tel Aviv) has been trying to prevent and ease animal suffering for over 50 years.

During the British mandate a group of English, Jewish and Arab animal caring people opened an animal shelter at 30 Salame Road, Jaffa. Thousands of stray and unwanted dogs, cats, small domestic animals and birds, horses, donkeys were brought to the shelter and homes were found for as many as possible. The prevention of suffering and pain of the homeless animal in a violent and compassionless environment has been the focus of the Society's day to day activities. Every means has been used to alleviate and help prevent suffering.

Efforts in the past and today have centered around:

1. Maintaining a well-run shelter.
2. Responsible re-homing of dogs and cats.
3. Releasing only spayed or neutered pets and propagating spaying and altering.
4. Educating youth towards a humane attitude to animals.
5. Accepting every animal that needs our help and never turning an animal away.

In the year 1995 over 14,000 animals including large numbers of newly born and very young puppies and kittens, many rescued from garbage bins. Many sick and injured animals were brought to our shelter. The source of all the trouble are the pets that are not altered. They cause the tragic stray and abandoned animal problem - animals that are doomed to suffering.

We run a "Sick Benefit" type of Veterinary clinic where pet owners can care for their pets at a nominal charge. Spaying and neutering are subsidized in order to encourage this essential operation. School and youth groups visit our new shelter and are introduced to the concept of kindness and the humane treatment of animals, by our Veterinary doctor and educationalist.

Our kennels hold an average of 200 dogs, 30 cats, a stable for 9 donkeys or horses, and an enclosure for ducks, chickens, rabbits and guinea pigs, etc. The Society's ambulances are out on calls daily bringing in the sick, injured and unwanted animals. We maintain a staff of 9 workers which includes a full time veterinary doctor. Many volunteers come and help during the week. We are a non-profit organization. Our funds come from the clinic, animal re-homing, donations and legacies. Without donations and legacies we would not be able to function.

Our new shelter was opened in 1993, and contains all the elements of a well built, practical and geared to the good of the animals in our care. It is a humane project that the city of Tel Aviv and the country can be as proud of as we are. We invite the public to visit the shelter.
